TASOW (The Awesome Spirit of Wildlife)

TASOW was founded in 2004 by a group of students at Slippery Rock High School. Since its inception the group has worked to raise awareness of the importance of wildlife conservation with particular emphasis on reptiles and amphibians.

Beginning with the rescue of and rehabilitation of reptiles, TASOW found a way to use these very animals as educational tools for live presentations – to help bring a heightened sense of awareness through the reality of these particular animal's circumstances. While the group is still actively involved with reptile rescue and rehab, they have also begun to develop conservation presentations and documentary films. These films have been seen by countless school and community groups, and they blend a wondrous fascination with these animals with a stern scientific warning about environmental stewardship and protecting these precious "indicator species" for future generations.
